RUTH ELDER IS NOW A WORLD HEROINE

SOUTHERN GIRL'S DARING IS ADMIRIED BY THOUSANDS

She Braved the Air, Sea, Storm and Even Fire, and Came Out of It All Victorious, Although Not Successful In Reaching Her Goal To Fly To Paris—She Will Be Feted, Dined and Acclaimed Abroad as a Real American Woman, Who, Like Gertrude Ederle, Dared To Do Things.

The monoplane "American Girl" which carried an American girl, Ruth Elder, off over the Atlantic Tuesday afternoon for a nonstop flight from New York to Paris, today a burned wreck in the ocean, the goal un-reached, but the girl is safe.

With her companion in the adventure, Captain George Haldeman, also safe, she is aboard the Dutch steamer Barendrecht, which rescued them early Thursday from the fallen plane some 350 miles northeast of the Azores, about 900 miles from the Portuguese coast. They were about 3000 miles along their course.

Something serious happened to the monoplane's machinery—a broken oil pipe—the fliers had to come down, perhaps they floated until the Barendrecht came along, or perhaps they deliberately came down when they sighted her, the whole story has yet to be told, but as they were being rescued fire started aboard the plane and it was destroyed.

A wireless from Barendrecht, vainly besieged all day for further news, may tell more if the dramatic tale before the tanker reaches the Azores, probably Saturday morning.

The facts already known came partly from Ruth Elder herself in a terse wireless message to the Associated Press bureau in Paris that she and Haldeman had been picked up by the tanker and were "OK," from the agents of the tanker in Rotterdam and from the ship's captain whose message told of the destruction of the "American Girl" by fire as her crew was being rescued.

The "flash" telling of the safety of the American Girl's crew caused a municipal celebration in Lakeland, Florida, Miss Elder's home town, brought relief to the strained nerves of her mother at Anniston, Alabama, and to Mrs. Haldeman in New York City, and started a rumble of newspaper presses virtually around the world. London, Paris and other world centers recorded the avid interest of the public in the fate of the courageous girl who, with a toy cat under her arm and a farewell smile, had set out against the dangers which had beaten a score more experienced fliers.

Lack of further dispatches from the tanker was explained partly by the statement that her radio equipment had a radius of only 150 miles. The lone operator in charge must have been overwhelmed by the bombardment of messages which his sparse "All OK," messages brought. Congratulations from friends, relatives and just wellwishers, urgent requests for details, preferably from the principals in the story, and offers of theatrical engagements poured thru the air toward the spot where the tanker—until an hour before, the most unromantic of vessels—stolidly ploughed toward the Azores.

Ruth Elder failed by a scant 800 miles of accomplishing the feat of being the first woman to cross the Atlantic by airplane.

She and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, were forced down on the waters of the Atlantic by a broken oil pipe and are safe and sound aboard the Dutch tanker Barendrecht which rescued them. Their plane, the American girl, was estimated to have traveled 3000 miles along its 3800 mile journey.

The first news of the landing and rescue arrived in Paris at 4:35 p. m. in a radio message Miss Elder sent to the Paris office of the Associated Press.

Her message read: "Landed by S. S. Barendrecht with broken oil line. Both Haldeman and I okay—Ruth Elder."

It is presumed that the plane was in the air 30 hours or more and kept to a fairly direct eastward line, getting into trouble probably soon after turning northeast toward France.

Expressions of relief were then heard everywhere and at the same time comment was almost universal "she was mighty lucky to land by a steamship and be rescued."

Stone Age Relics Show Old Migration Road

Berlin.—About 2,500 B. C. there was a great north-and-south migration through central Europe, which used the still contested territory of Silesia, lying between Poland and Germany, as its track. Recent excavations have shown the trail of the moving tribes to be marked with all manner of implements and ornaments dating back to the new Stone age, according to Prof. H. Seger of Breslau.

One of the most interesting of the finds is a clay image of a man, rudely made but well proportioned, and with an effort at realism in representing the lines on its wide, curved horns the wrinkles on its neck and the curly wool. The statue is about a foot high and a little over fourteen inches long, which Professor Seger characterizes as "monumental" for that period in the history of the race. It is believed to have been used in connection with religious ceremonies.

PLAN ON FOOT TO RECALL THE LEGISLATURE

In Special Session Next January To Take Up Bills Vetoed By Governor.

Columbus—Plans were under way today to have the legislature reconsider important measures vetoed by Governor Donahey if a special session of the general assembly is called in January, as has been indicated.

Among the issues which would be considered are the $500,000 appropriation for bovine tuberculosis eradication in 1928. A $500,000 item for secondary highways as provided in the original Green bill, financial provision for traveling expenses of state employees, all of which suffered the executive veto.

Dairy farmers and stockmen in northern Ohio claim that they will suffer a tremendous financial loss if the eradication work is stopped this year which will be necessary if the present appropriation stands.

The utilities commission has asked Attorney Edward C. Turner to issue a ruling as to the legality of the governor's veto.

Dr. Ward said he did not anticipate any immediate ill effects and Miss Ward is continuing her activities at Heidelberg.

Paris Has Its Har'lem; Montmarie Now Black

Paris.—Paris has a "Harlem" of its own. Gradually the large negro population that has poured in upon the French capital since the war has gravitated toward Montmarie.

The "colored boys" who call Paris home have come to France from many places. Some are from America, others from Africa, and many from Martinique, and the French West Indies.

"Charleston City" is the name Paris Caucasians have given to the section of Montmarie where the negroes live. Many of the members of the colony are dancers, jazz band musicians, door openers and messengers in establishments that go in for red and gold uniforms.

Sadly Incomplete

A deed dated March 15, 1807, recently recorded on Long Island, conveys "the Valentine farm on the highway leading from Jamaica to Great Plains on the Jericho road turnpike, thence to the highway leading from Little Plains to Rocky Hill, including the buildings, orchards, gardens, meadows, commons, seedlings, trees, woods, paths, water and water courses," but gives no other description of the property or any indication of its size, and nobody knows what it is.

MOUNTAIN BEAR ARE PRESENTED OHIO MUSEUM

By An Expedition Headed By William Rindsfoos, Formerly of This City.

The Ohio State Archeological and Historical society expedition which on July 29, plunged into the Alaskan wilderness in search of big game specimens, reached Seattle, Wednesday, according to word received from William Rindsfoos, 256 Parkwood avenue, and president of the Brunson Bank and Trust Co., Columbus, and head of the expedition.

While definite reports as to the result of the Alaskan exploration are lacking, Rindsfoos has wired that the trip was successful, his bag including five grizzly and one black bear, and six mountain sheep. Rindsfoos carried a special permit from the United States biological survey and his object was to secure full sized specimens of grizzly bear, and mountain sheep, male, female and young, to be mounted and assembled in groups for the new wing in the museum located on the campus of Ohio State university.

Rindsfoos is no novice at exploitation and his game hunting. For the past twenty-five years he has gone yearly into the wilds of Canada. These expeditions were begun originally for sport and recreation, but the idea of killing game for the sport of killing was abandoned many years ago in favor of the scientific data which he has sought to obtain for various institutions.

Five distinct trips were made into Alberta, British Columbia, and the Yukon territory, and two trips to the Aleutian Islands, stretching out from Alaska across the Pacific toward Asia for the purpose of mapping the boundaries of the various species of bear, sheep and goat, the results being turned over to the Biological survey of the United States department of agriculture. He also made one trip to the Behring sea for walrus.

One of Rindsfoos' outstanding accomplishments in this field was the discovery in 1916 of a new species of grizzly bear. This specimen was collected by him at the head of Jack Pine river, on the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia, and the structure of the skull was such as to puzzle the authorities of the Biological survey and the Smithsonian institute. E. W. Nelson, the then head of the survey, in his official report and bulletin on North American Fauna, stated his inability to definitely classify this bear, but he placed it provisionally in the group known to scientists as Ursus Horribilis, and gave it the common name of the "Rindsfoos Grizzly." This specimen now reposes in the United States National museum, Washington D. C.

Another of Rindsfoos' contributions was an exhaustive set of field notes on the habits and characteristics of the moose, these notes being logical survey. Rindsfoos' acquaintance with this animal began in New Brunswick in 1902 and he has hunted and observed them during the succeeding 25 years in practically every province of Canada where they have their habitat.

PARALYSIS SERUM

Development of New Weapon For Combating Malady Claimed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—(U.P.)—A serum to combat infantile paralysis has been discovered and tested in sufficient cases to demonstrate its value, an Indianapolis pharmaceutical concern, announced last night.
The serum was produced in co-operation with Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, chief of experimental biology for the Mayo Foundation.
When the treatment is given as soon as a case is diagnosed and before paralysis sets in, paralysis may be entirely avoided, and it may be mitigated even when treatment is not started until the case is far advanced, it was said.

Bead Superstition
Alum beads, esteemed to be an efficacious charm against the evil eye, were largely worn by children, and in a town of Suffolk, England, there is said to have dwelt a witch who possessed a pair of ebony beads, stated to have come from the Holy Land, and to have been sanctioned at Rome. To her there repaired many a mother when her child was sick, in the hope that through the prayers of the ebony beads would be conjured away the evil spirit.

FINE ATTRACTIONS SECURED FOR LOCAL ENTERTAINMENT SERIES

Season Tickets Now on Sale

Some excellent attractions have been secured for local enjoyment this fall and winter. The committee buying carefully from the Interstate Bureau of Chicago, has chosen five strong numbers: THE BUBBLE, a three-act Comedy; HOWARD RUSSELL’S COLLEGIANS; FRYE AND COMPANY, Illusionists; HENRY BLACK BURNS, Lecturer; and THE CUTLER-GRIFFIN CONCERT COMPANY.

Such a strong line-up is made possible by the fact that the Interstate Bureau is placing its special de luxe combination of five star numbers in nearly two hundred towns and cities in this general section. By clubbing together in this way it is possible to secure talent that would otherwise be practically prohibitive in price.

It is hard to pick the best because there is much variety. Lovers of high-class vocal and instrumental music may prefer the concert, entertainment and operatic revue given by the Cutler-Griffin Company with their many colorful features and handsome costumes. Others may choose Howard Russell’s Collegians, a lively musical and entertainment group of young men from Canada, or the Frye Company with its magic, illusions, and spiritualistic effects.

Everyone, of course, will wish to see the play “THE BUBBLE,” Edward Locke’s comedy masterpiece, with a record of long runs in New York and other cities, and to be played here by an excellent professional cast. And Dr. Henry Black Burns, whose lecture, “Chords and Discords,” a platform classic, has been heard thousands of times from coast to coast, will not lack patrons.

Season tickets for this exceptional bargain in worth-while entertainment will be on sale at the leading stores, banks, and by members of the local committee. Naturally a considerable saving is effected by buying season tickets.

The way to get full value out of the course is to secure season tickets and attend all the numbers, for each is entirely different from the others and all are planned with a view to the general effect.

Every type of high-class entertainment—musical, vocal, dramatic, and comic—is provided, up-to-date, snappy, but with emphasis on the best things.

The Committee wishes especially to call attention to the lecturer, Dr. Henry Black Burns, whose appearance on any platform is an event.

FOR DATES SEE NEWSPAPER ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Old Belief Wrong

There is no scientific foundation for the popular belief that the deeper the water the easier it is to swim in it. The buoyancy of water does not increase with the depth. It is just as easy to swim in water 10 feet deep as in water 100 feet in depth.

The modern Greek language is a dialect of the ancient Greeks, and the literary language of today is a continuation of the main literary dialect of ancient Greece, the Attic, as modified by passing through Byzantine. MANY OLD MAIDS DON'T CHANGE WITH MARRIAGE

Not all spinsters are unmarried, declares Princess Alexandra Kropotkin in an article in this week's Liberty. Many of them are married and making their husbands quite miserable, she says.

"It is a curious fact," the princess writes, "that, tho there are portraits in plenty in literature, both classic and modern, of the spinster--comical, catty, charming, lonely, or pathetic--virtually no attention has been given to the spinster who marries, yet remains true to type.

"There are dozens of these of different types," the writer maintains, "all of them with certain traits which are distinctive spinsterishnesses. Out of the aggregate of fussiness, exaggerated love of animals, worship of inanimate objects, narrowness, envy, or spite, there emerges one general characteristic; Spiritual sterility. Running in a groove, so that there is no room for any other human being alongside.

"This characteristic, in the intimacy of marriage, becomes a serious matter. A spinster wife is a formidable evil to contend with. Her spinsterishness is, in fact, a most refined form of cruelty, more subtle in its power to cause her partner suffering than some blatant vice."

FARM BUREAU PARADE.

The Farm Bureau will be comprised of a Boys' and Girls' Club Parade, and a parade prepared by the the Pickaway County Cream association, Pickaway Grain company, Pickaway Livestock association, Automobile Insurance and the Pickaway County Farm Bureau with the board of directors of each of these agencies in line.

The parade will assemble on Mound street and will start at 2:10 p. m., Friday afternoon, October 21st.

The parade will take the following course: North on Court from Mound to Pinkney, west to Scioto, south to Main, east on Main to Pickaway and thence south to Mound and starting point.

Be sure to see this parade. You will enjoy the message it carries. 13octd2.

FARM BUREAU EXHIBIT.

The Pickaway County Farm Bureau has arranged an exhibit for the Pumpkin Show to acquaint people with the services offered to farm people of this county thru organization. The exhibit will be housed in a tent on East Main street and will be comprised of the following exhibits:

The European Corn Borer, showing the life history of this insect and the damages wrought by it in the infestations in Ohio and other states.

A Soils exhibit based upon the results of the Soil Testing Clinic, will give a classification of Pickaway soil types. The type of treatment necessary to give most economical results in the average Pickaway county cropping system.

The third exhibit will be a set-up of the various services and the correlation of these services which are offered to Pickaway county folks thru the Farm Bureau organizations.

All visitors to the Pumpkin Show should take the opportunity to visit these exhibits, because a practical application of the messages carried in this exhibit can be made advantageously. 13octd2.

MANY WEARY MILES COVERED IN FARM CHORES

The Putman County Farmers Have Figured It Out That They Travel 99 Miles.

Ohio farmers walk an average of 99 miles a month in feeding and caring for their livestock in the winter months. On some farms those who care for the livestock walk as far as 170 miles a month; on others, as little as 33 miles.

So pedometers worn by Putnam county farmers and recorded with the rural economics department at the Ohio State university, now reveal. The 99 miles a month meant an average of 3.3 miles daily; the 170 miles of walking a month, an average of 5.6 miles daily.

On two farms with practically the same kind and number of livestock," reports John F. Dowler of the rural economics department, "there was a difference of 86 miles monthly in the steps taken to do the livestock chores.

"Each farm had three horses, three cows, five or six brood sows and their pigs. To care for this amount of livestock it required 135 miles of walking a month on one farm, or an average of about four and a half miles a day. On the other farm it took only 49 miles of walking a month, or 1.6 miles daily.

"The saving of steps on the latter farm and on others with similar records," Mr. Dowler points out, "was made possible by the convenient location of the buildings, with interiors efficiently arranged for livestock care. Cribs of corn and feed bins were handy. Self-feeders and drinking fountains were used for growing pigs. Tanks of water for the other livestock were kept filled by wind mills or gasoline engines.

"On the three farms requiring the greatest amount of walking," Mr. Dowler concludes, "the water pail was depended upon to supply water to the hogs. Self-feeders were seldom used. Corn was carried and fed to the livestock."

SEE THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB ENTRIES.

The Boys' and Girls' Club exhibits will be located as follows:

Clothing Club exhibit will be presented in the assembly room of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau office on Franklin street. The Food Club exhibit will be shown as a part of the Food Show located on the corner by H. B. Colwell. The Pig and Calf Club exhibits will be shown on East High street. The Poultry Club exhibits will be shown at the Poultry Show on South Court street. 13octd2.

AMUSEMENTS

That monumental screen epic, "The Big Parade," starring John Gilbert, was shown for the first time here last night at the Met theater before a deeply impressed and enthusiastic audience of ex-soldiers, regular theatergoers and many who seldom attend a motion picture. Without exception they declared it the greatest motion picture ever exhibited in Circleville. It is King Vidor production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"The Big Parade" is a simple story, simply told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likeable young fellow enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, played delightfully by Karl Dane and Tim O'Brien. While stationed behind the lines, he falls in love with a French peasant girl, Melisande, and at the conclusion of the war goes home to find conditions changed. It would be unfair to futures audiences to tell the rest of the story. How he works out his destiny is the basis of a powerful and human climax.

King Vidor has reached an exalted cinematic goal with this picture. The film has a martial swing and the rhythm of blended comedy and drama. Its romance and heart interest awaken a response in every spectator in the audience.

John Gilbert is superb as the American doughboy; he has never done anything finer. Renee Adoree plays the part of the French Melisande to perfection. There is something in the love scenes between these two that makes the heart leap. Frequently terrible in its swiftess and emotional quality, "The Big Parade" is not all filled with the almost continuous laughter. The second half shows, more clearly than anything else ever has, its grim realities.

REMUS CHARGE IS RIDICULED

Franklin L. Dodge Denies Knowledge of Securities Cache.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 12.—Franklin L. Dodge Jr., former Government operative, ridiculed the reported declaration of George Remus, Cincinnati bootlegger, that his slain wife, in conspiracy with Dodge, had cashed $1,800,000 in a safety deposit box in Lansing.

He became acquainted with Mrs. Remus when she, at the instance of her husband, asked him to help free her husband from the penitentiary in 1925, Dodge said. He asserted he befriended the woman was without funds prior to her death. The former Government agent said he understood Mrs. Remus was at least partly dependent upon relatives.

"The idea of Mrs. Remus and I depositing securities in a bank here is absurd. If she had a safety deposit box here or visited Lansing I knew nothing about it."

Dodge said Mrs. Remus, during the time her husband was in the penitentiary, displayed her loyalty by taking him thousands of dollars worth of food. He saw bills for food, Dodge said, and the totals were staggering.

After Remus was freed from the penitentiary in 1925 he threatened Mrs. Remus, and she was in constant fear for her life, Dodge continued. She moved to Cleveland for a time and dodged from apartment to apartment and hotel to hotel so her husband would not discover her whereabouts, he claimed.

Dodge described Remus as a man who liked to think he was the greatest operator in the liquor business and would go any lengths to gain revenge upon those who helped tear down that illusion.

As a matter of fact, he ranked far inferior to many others in the business, the former Government operative said.

"He thought I had influence with high officials and could secure immunity for him. When his pleas fell on deaf ears he became incensed, and the next thing I knew I was named in his divorce cross bill. Remus urged his wife to become familiar with me in the hope it would help him. We were never more than acquaintances."

At one time there was an attempt to settle the divorce case, Dodge asserted, and Remus was angered because his wife would not agree to a division that would have given Remus practically all of the property. Dodge said the scope of Remus's operations was much exaggerated and estimated his wealth at less than $1,000,000 instead of the reputed $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

GUIDING THE YOUNG IN UPWARD PATHS

A moving picture sample of the activities of little children learning by the laboratory method "try it and see" is being featured in London in an unusual campaign. Maltling House school, originally started by faculty members of Cambridge university for their own offspring as a place where young children could "learn how to learn," has proved so successful that the directors wish to expand it into a new type of educational research. To show parents who are interested in experimental schools what can be done to retain the emotional and intellectual drive of the "ask question age," movies of a specimen week at Maltling house have been put on view for a private showing. The directors, who include such men as Sir Ernest Rutherford, former winner of the Nobel prize for physics, and J. B. S. Haldane, essayist and biologist, recently attracted wide attention toward the school by advertising in leading scientific journals for a scientist "of the first order" to investigate and conduct the introduction of young children to science and scientific method.

"Palmy Days"

The origin of the phrase, "palmy days," arises from the custom of the ancient Romans. A victorious gladiator received a palm branch as a symbolic reward for his brave deeds.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Beats 45 Fastest Trains

45 Trains

65,678 Min.

3 Auburn Stock Cars

42,000 Miles
40,435 Min.

2000 Miles Farther in 25,243 Less Minutes

THE public thinks of such trains as the "Century" and the "Chief" as being fast. They are.

But it requires over 65,600 minutes for 45 of the world's fastest trains, going in all directions from Chicago, to run 40,000 miles. And these trains get MANY fresh engines, at regular intervals, in order to make this remarkable speed.

Contrast this phenomenal performance of three Auburn fully equipped STOCK cars that ran 42,000 miles in less than 40,435 minutes (exact duplicates in every way of the Auburn cars every Auburn dealer has).

Here is an amazing record of performance, endurance and value never before approached, let alone equalled.

No change of engines for these three stock cars. No favoritism, but the hardest kind of driving, continuously, under American Automobile Association official supervision, on the Atlantic City Speedway.

To even RUN 42,000 continuous miles, at much less speed, would be a tremendous tribute to ANY automobile's efficiency and stamina. That is farther mileage and infinitely harder punishment than any three average private owners impose on their cars in a whole year's service.

But no other car has ever survived an official test of this magnitude and distance. Three Auburn cars DID it, at speeds that overwhelmingly break all records.

Not only that, but we KNOW that Auburn cars can go much farther at even FASTER speed.

The purpose of this test was not speed, altho that is sensational and establishes Auburn supreme in this respect.

The real purpose was to prove in the acid test of this proving grounds that Auburn cars ARE better designed, better built, more efficient, and more durable.

In these highly competitive days of extravagant claims, the public is entitled to the unvarnished truth about the relative value of motor cars.

It is what a car DOES and not what its builders SAY that determines VALUE.

Drive an Auburn Straight Eight and if it does not sell itself you will not be asked to buy.

Birds snared in midair over the heads of the audience, fishes caught in the same way, the spirit slates, the disappearing ring, the wonder screen, the vanishing doves, the mysterious sunshade, cooking by radio, a lunch prepared from thin air, the great Chinese Torture Cabinet mystery, and many other illusions, varied with vocal and instrumental music, go to make the entertainment of Frye and Company one of the most attractive on the present Interstate Series.

DO SPIRITS RETURN?
Can Mortals Communicate With the Spirit World?
These are questions which have puzzled the world since civilization began. Frye and Company will produce many of the illusions and tricks used by fakery and alleged mediums in their so-called seances for the purpose of deceiving and extracting money from the credulous. Many of the artifices used to produce the fake spirit manifestations and the tricks used by fortune-tellers and similar frauds are demonstrated and exposed in a most instructive and entertaining manner.

$75,000 a Session May Be Saved By Legislature, Ackerman Says.

Co-operation of state departments with experts conducting the survey of government functions for the committee on economy and government is assured, Speaker O. C. Gray said here Wednesday in a meeting of the committee.

The experts for Griffin, Hagen and associates, limited, of Chicago, who are conducting the survey, will be given full authority to go into various departments by resolution of the legislative committee.

Work will start in the Legislature itself, according to Joseph N. Ackerman, Cleveland, who said approximately $75,000 a session can be saved by elimination of 50 Senate employees and 25 House employees.—Columbus Citizen.

"Receiving Room"

An elderly colored man hesitatingly opened the door at police headquarters the other day and walking into the building barely far enough to allow the door to close, addressed a bystander with, "Could you tell me, sir, where I could find the receiving room?"

"The receiving room?" asked the bystander with a puzzled look. "You have goods to deliver?"

"No sir. Have no goods. I want the receiving room—the room where they bring 'em after they're caught."

Sound Advice
Some young fellows think that it is "smart," "clever," and a sign of bravery to drive near the edge of a precipice; to spend what cash they have freely; and to be a good fellow and take the risk some one else urges upon them. This is the sign of inexperience and lack of real business knowledge and experience. Play safe. Keep clean. Be strong. Be true, and you will never regret it.—Exchange.

Bottle Drifts From New York to Azores

Red Bank, N. J.—On June 26, 1923, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Parker Humphreys of New York city and Fair Haven, N. J., were cruising on Long Island sound in their yacht Fenella.

Mrs. Humphreys wrote a note, inclosed it in a corked bottle and threw it overboard. The bottle was picked up July 15 of this year in the Azores, according to a letter just received by Mrs. Humphreys.

To arrive at this destination the bottle must have gone around Montauk point, striking the Arctic southerly current, following it down to some point south of Cape Hatteras, where it probably was caught in the gulf stream.

RUTH ELDER IS NOW A WORLD HEROINE

SOUTHERN GIRL'S DARING IS ADMIRIED BY THOUSANDS

She Braved the Air, Sea, Storm and Even Fire, and Came Out of It All Victorious, Although Not Successful In Reaching Her Goal To Fly To Paris—She Will Be Feted, Dined and Acclaimed Abroad as a Real American Woman, Who, Like Gertrude Ederle, Dared To Do Things.

The monoplane "American Girl" which carried an American girl, Ruth Elder, off over the Atlantic Tuesday afternoon for a nonstop flight from New York to Paris, today a burned wreck in the ocean, the goal un-reached, but the girl is safe.

With her companion in the adventure, Captain George Haldeman, also safe, she is aboard the Dutch steamer Barendrecht, which rescued them early Thursday from the fallen plane some 350 miles northeast of the Azores, about 900 miles from the Portuguese coast. They were about 3000 miles along their course.

Something serious happened to the monoplane's machinery—a broken oil pipe—the fliers had to come down, perhaps they floated until the Barendrecht came along, or perhaps they deliberately came down when they sighted her, the whole story has yet to be told, but as they were being rescued fire started aboard the plane and it was destroyed.

A wireless from Barendrecht, vainly beseeched all day for further news, may tell more if the dramatic tale before the tanker reaches the Azores, probably Saturday morning.

The facts already known came partly from Ruth Elder herself in a terse wireless message to the Associated Press bureau in Paris that she and Haldeman had been picked up by the tanker and were "OK," from the agents of the tanker in Rotterdam and from the ship's captain whose message told of the destruction of the "American Girl" by fire as her crew was being rescued.

The "flash" telling of the safety of the "American Girl's" crew caused a municipal celebration in Lakeland, Florida, Miss Elder's home town, brought relief to the strained nerves of her mother at Anniston, Alabama, and to Mrs. Haldeman in New York City, and started a rumble of newspaper presses virtually around the world. London, Paris and other world centers recorded the avid interest of the public in the fate of the courageous girl who, with a toy cat under her arm and a farewell smile, had set out against the dangers which had beaten a score more experienced fliers.

Lack of further dispatches from the tanker was explained partly by the statement that her radio equipment had a radius of only 150 miles. The lone operator in charge must have been overwhelmed by the bombardment of messages which his sparse "All OK," messages brought. Congratulations from friends, relatives and just wellwishers, urgent requests for details, preferably from the principals in the story, and offers of theatrical engagements poured thru the air toward the spot where the tanker—until an hour before, the most unromantic of vessels—stolidly ploughed toward the Azores.

Ruth Elder failed by a scant 800 miles of accomplishing the feat of being the first woman to cross the Atlantic by airplane.

She and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, were forced down on the waters of the Atlantic by a broken oil pipe and are safe and sound aboard the Dutch tanker Barendrecht which rescued them. Their plane, the American girl, was estimated to have traveled 3000 miles along its 3800 mile journey.

The first news of the landing and rescue arrived in Paris at 4:35 p. m. in a radio message Miss Elder sent to the Paris office of the Associated Press.

Her message read: "Landed by S. S. Barendrecht with broken oil line. Both Haldeman and I okay—Ruth Elder."

It is presumed that the plane was in the air 30 hours or more and kept to a fairly direct eastward line, getting into trouble probably soon after turning northeast toward France.

Expressions of relief were then heard everywhere and at the same time comment was almost universal "she was mighty lucky to land by a steamship and be rescued."

Stone Age Relics Show Old Migration Road

Berlin—About 2,500 B. C. there was a great north-and-south migration through central Europe, which used the still contested territory of Silesia, lying between Poland and Germany, as its track. Recent excavations have shown the trail of the moving tribes to be marked with all manner of implements and ornaments dating back to the new Stone age, according to Prof. H. Seger of Breslau.

One of the most interesting of the finds is a clay image of a man, rudely made but well proportioned, and with an effort at realism in representing the lines on its wide, curved horns, the wrinkles on its neck and the curly wool. The statue is about a foot high and a little over fourteen inches long, which Professor Seger characterizes as "monumental" for that period in the history of the race. It is believed to have been used in connection with religious ceremonies.

PLAN ON FOOT TO RECALL THE LEGISLATURE

In Special Session Next January To Take Up Bills Vetoed By Governor.

Columbus—Plans were under way today to have the legislature reconsider important measures vetoed by Governor Donahey if a special session of the general assembly is called in January, as has been indicated.

Among the issues which would be considered are the $500,000 appropriation for bovine tuberculosis eradication in 1928. A $500,000 item for secondary highways as provided in the original Green bill, financial provision for traveling expenses of state employees, all of which suffered the executive veto.

Dairy farmers and stockmen in northern Ohio claim that they will suffer a tremendous financial loss if the eradication work is stopped this year which will be necessary if the present appropriation stands.

The utilities commission has asked Attorney Edward C. Turner to issue a ruling as to the legality of the governor's veto.

Paris Has Its Har'lem; Montmartre Now Black

Paris.—Paris has a "Har'lem" of its own. Gradually the large negro population that has poured in upon the French capital since the war has gravitated toward Montmartre.

The "colored boys" who call Paris home have come to France from many places. Some are from America, others from Africa, and many from Martinique, and the French West Indies.

"Charleston City" is the name Paris Caucasians have given to the section of Montmartre where the negroes live. Many of the members of the colony are dancers, jazz band musicians, door openers and messengers in establishments that go in for red and gold uniforms.

Sadly Incomplete

A deed dated March 15, 1807, recently recorded on Long Island, conveys "the Valentine farm on the highway leading from Jamaica to Great Plains on the Jericho road turnpike, thence to the highway leading from Little Plains to Rocky Hill, including the buildings, orchards, gardens, meadows, commons, seedlings, trees, woods, paths, water and water courses," but gives no other description of the property or any indication of its size, and nobody knows what it is.

MOUNTAIN BEAR ARE PRESENTED OHIO MUSEUM

By An Expedition Headed By William Rindsfoos, Formerly of This City.

The Ohio State Archeological and Historical society expedition which on July 29, plunged into the Alaskan wilderness in search of big game specimens, reached Seattle, Wednesday, according to word received from William Rindsfoos, 256 Parkwood avenue, and president of the Brunson Bank and Trust Co., Columbus, and head of the expedition.

While definite reports as to the result of the Alaskan exploration are lacking, Rindsfoos has wired that the trip was successful, his bag including five grizzly and one black bear, and six mountain sheep. Rindsfoos carried a special permit from the United States biological survey and his object was to secure full sized specimens of grizzly bear, and mountain sheep, male, female and young, to be mounted and assembled in groups for the new wing in the museum located on the campus of Ohio State university.

Rindsfoos is no novice at exploitation and his game hunting. For the past twenty-five years he has gone yearly into the wilds of Canada. These expeditions were begun originally for sport and recreation, but the idea of killing game for the sport of killing was abandoned many years ago in favor of the scientific data which he has sought to obtain for various institutions.

Five distinct trips were made into Alberta, British Columbia, and the Yukon territory, and two trips to the Aleutian Islands, stretching out from Alaska across the Pacific toward Asia for the purpose of mapping the boundaries of the various species of bear, sheep and goat, the results being turned over to the Biological survey of the United States department of agriculture. He also made one trip to the Behring sea for walrus.

One of Rindsfoos' outstanding accomplishments in this field was the discovery in 1916 of a new species of grizzly bear. This specimen was collected by him at the head of Jack Pine river, on the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia, and the structure of the skull was such as to puzzle the authorities of the Biological survey and the Smithsonian institute. E. W. Nelson, the then head of the survey, in his official report and bulletin on North American Fauna, stated his inability to definitely classify this bear, but he placed it provisionally in the group known to scientists as Ursus Horribilis, and gave it the common name of the "Rindsfoos Grizzly." This specimen now reposes in the United States National museum, Washington D. C.

Another of Rindsfoos' contributions was an exhaustive set of field notes on the habits and characteristics of the moose, these notes being prepared at the suggestion of the former chief of the United States bio-ance with this animal began in New Brunswick in 1902 and he has hunted and observed them during the succeeding 25 years in practically every province of Canada where they have their habitat.

PARALYSIS SERUM

Development of New Weapon For Combating Malady Claimed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—(U.P.)—A serum to combat infantile paralysis has been discovered and tested in sufficient cases to demonstrate its value, an Indianapolis pharmaceutical concern, announced last night.

The serum was produced in co-operation with Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, chief of experimental biology for the Mayo Foundation.

When the treatment is given as soon as a case is diagnosed and before paralysis sets in, paralysis may be entirely avoided, and it may be mitigated even when treatment is not started until the case is far advanced, it was said.

Bead Superstition

Alum beads, esteemed to be an efficacious charm against the evil eye, were largely worn by children, and in a town of Suffolk, England, there is said to have dwelt a witch who possessed a pair of ebony beads, stated to have come from the Holy Land, and to have been sanctioned at Rome. To her there repaired many a mother when her child was sick, in the hope that through the prayers of the ebony beads would be conjured away the evil spirit.

FINE ATTRACTIONS SECURED FOR LOCAL ENTERTAINMENT SERIES

Season Tickets Now on Sale

Some excellent attractions have been secured for local enjoyment this fall and winter. The committee buying carefully from the Interstate Bureau of Chicago, has chosen five strong numbers: THE BUBBLE, a three-act Comedy; HOWARD RUSSELL'S COLLEGIANS; FRYE AND COMPANY, Illusionists; HENRY BLACK BURNS, Lecturer; and THE CUTLER-GRIFFIN CONCERT COMPANY.

Such a strong line-up is made possible by the fact that the Interstate Bureau is placing its special de luxe combination of five star numbers in nearly two hundred towns and cities in this general section. By clubbing together in this way it is possible to secure talent that would otherwise be practically prohibitive in price.

It is hard to pick the best because there is much variety. Lovers of high-class vocal and instrumental music may prefer the concert, entertainment and operatic revue given by the Cutler-Griffin Company with their many colorful features and handsome costumes. Others may choose Howard Russell's Collegians, a lively musical and entertainment group of young men from Canada, or the Frye Company with its magic, illusions, and spiritualistic effects.

Everyone, of course, will wish to see the play "THE BUBBLE" Edward Locke's comedy masterpiece, with a record of long runs in New York and other cities, and to be played here by an excellent professional cast. And Dr. Henry Black Burns, whose lecture, "Chords and Discords," a platform classic, has been heard thousands of times from coast to coast, will not lack patrons.

Season tickets for this exceptional bargain in worth-while entertainment will be on sale at the leading stores, banks, and by members of the local committee. Naturally a considerable saving is effected by buying season tickets.

The way to get full value out of the course is to secure season tickets and attend all the numbers, for each is entirely different from the others and all are planned with a view to the general effect.

Every type of high-class entertainment—musical, vocal, dramatic, and comic—is provided, up-to-date, snappy, but with emphasis on the best things.

The Committee wishes especially to call attention to the lecturer, Dr. Henry Black Burns, whose appearance on any platform is an event.

MANY OLD MAIDS DON'T CHANGE WITH MARRIAGE
Not all spinsters are unmarried, declares Princess Alexandra Kropotkin in an article in this week's Liberty. Many of them are married and making their husbands quite miserable, she says.
"It is a curious fact," the princess writes, "that, tho there are portraits in plenty in literature, both classic and modern, of the spinster--comical, catty, charming, lonely, or pathetic--virtually no attention has been given to the spinster who marries, yet remains true to type.
"There are dozens of these of different types," the writer maintains, "all of them with certain traits which are distinctive spinsterishnesses. Out of the aggregate of fussiness, exaggerated love of animals, worship of inanimate objects, narrowness, envy, or spite, there emerges one general characteristic: Spiritual sterility. Running in a groove, so that there is no room for any other human being alongside.
"This characteristic, in the intimacy of marriage, becomes a serious matter. A spinster wife is a formidable evil to contend with. Her spinsterishness is, in fact, a most refined form of cruelty, more subtle in its power to cause her partner suffering than some blatant vice."

FARM BUREAU PARADE.
The Farm Bureau will be comprised of a Boys' and Girls' Club Parade, and a parade prepared by the the Pickaway County Cream association, Pickaway Grain company, Pickaway Livestock association, Automobile Insurance and the Pickaway County Farm Bureau with the board of directors of each of these agencies in line.
The parade will assemble on Mound street and will start at 2:10 p. m., Friday afternoon, October 21st.
The parade will take the following course: North on Court from Mound to Pinkney, west to Scioto, south to Main, east on Main to Pickaway and thence south to Mound and starting point.
Be sure to see this parade. You will enjoy the message it carries.
13octd2.

FARM BUREAU EXHIBIT.
The Pickaway County Farm Bureau has arranged an exhibit for the Pumpkin Show to acquaint people with the services offered to farm people of this county thru organization.
The exhibit will be housed in a tent on East Main street and will be comprised of the following exhibits:
The European Corn Borer, showing the life history of this insect and the damages wrought by it in the infested areas in Ohio and other states.
A Soils exhibit based upon the results of the Soil Testing Clinic, will give a classification of Pickaway soil types. The type of treatment necessary to give most economical results in the average Pickaway county cropping system.
The third exhibit will be a set-up of the various services and the correlation of these services which are offered to Pickaway county folks thru the Farm Bureau organizations.
All visitors to the Pumpkin Show should take the opportunity to visit these exhibits, because a practical application of the messages carried in this exhibit can be made advantageously.

MANY WEARY MILES COVERED IN FARM CHORES
The Putman County Farmers Have Figured It Out That They Travel 99 Miles.
Ohio farmers walk an average of 99 miles a month in feeding and caring for their livestock in the winter months. On some farms those who care for the livestock walk as far as 170 miles a month; on others, as little as 33 miles.
So pedometers worn by Putnam county farmers and recorded with the rural economics department at the Ohio State university, now reveal. The 99 miles a month meant an average of 3.3 miles daily; the 170 miles of walking a month, an average of 5.6 miles daily.
On two farms with practically the same kind and number of livestock," reports John F. Dowler of the rural economics department, "there was a difference of 86 miles monthly in the steps taken to do the livestock chores.
"Each farm had three horses, three cows, five or six brood sows and their pigs. To care for this amount of livestock it required 135 miles of walking a month on one farm, or an average of about four and a half miles a day. On the other farm it took only 49 miles of walking a month, or 1.6 miles daily.
"The saving of steps on the latter farm and on others with similar records," Mr. Dowler points out, "was made possible by the convenient location of the buildings, with interiors efficiently arranged for livestock care. Cribs of corn and feed bins were handy. Self-feeders and drinking fountains were used for growing pigs. Tanks of water for the other livestock were kept filled by wind mills or gasoline engines.
"On the three farms requiring the greatest amount of walking," Mr. Dowler concludes, "the water pail was depended upon to supply water to the hogs. Self-feeders were seldom used. Corn was carried and fed to the livestock."

SEE THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB ENTRIES.
The Boys' and Girls' Club exhibits will be located as follows:
Clothing Club exhibit will be presented in the assembly room of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau office on Franklin street. The Food Club exhibit will be shown as a part of the Food Show located on the corner by H. B. Colwell. The Pig and Calf Club exhibits will be shown on East High street. The Poultry Club exhibits will be shown at the Poultry Show on South Court street.

AMUSEMENTS
That monumental screen epic, "The Big Parade," starring John Gilbert, was shown for the first time here last night at the Met theater before a deeply impressed and enthusiastic audience of ex-soldiers, regular theatergoers and many who seldom attend a motion picture. Without exception they declared it the greatest motion picture ever exhibited in Circleville. It is "King Vidor production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer."
"The Big Parade" is a simple story, simply told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likeable young fellow enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, played delightfully by Karl Dane and Tim O'Brien. While stationed behind the lines, he falls in love with a French peasant girl, Melisande, and at the conclusion of the war goes home to find conditions changed. It would be unfair to futures audiences to tell the rest of the story. How he works out his destiny is the basis of a powerful and human climax.
King Vidor has reached an exalted cinematic goal with this picture. The film has a martial swing and the rhythm of blended comedy and drama. Its romance and heart interest awaken a response in every spectator in the audience.
John Gilbert is superb as the American doughboy; he has never done anything finer. Renee Adoree plays the part of the French Melisande to perfection. There is something in the love scenes between these two that makes the heart leap. Frequently terrible in its swiftness and emotional quality, "The Big Parade" is not all filled with the almost continuous laughter. The second half shows, more clearly than anything else ever has, its grim realities.

REMUS CHARGE IS RIDICULED

Franklin L. Dodge Denies Knowledge of Securities Cache.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 12.—Franklin L. Dodge Jr., former Government operative, ridiculed the reported declaration of George Remus, Cincinnati bootlegger, that his slain wife, in conspiracy with Dodge, had cashed $1,800,000 in a safety deposit box in Lansing.

He became acquainted with Mrs. Remus when she, at the instance of her husband, asked him to help free her husband from the penitentiary in 1925, Dodge said. He asserted he befriended the woman was without funds prior to her death. The former Government agent said he understood Mrs. Remus was at least partly dependent upon relatives.

"The idea of Mrs. Remus and I depositing securities in a bank here is absurd. If she had a safety deposit box here or visited Lansing I knew nothing about it."

Dodge said Mrs. Remus, during the time her husband was in the penitentiary, displayed her loyalty by taking him thousands of dollars worth of food. He saw bills for food, Dodge said, and the totals were staggering.

After Remus was freed from the penitentiary in 1925 he threatened Mrs. Remus, and she was in constant fear for her life, Dodge continued. She moved to Cleveland for a time and dodged from apartment to apartment and hotel to hotel so her husband would not discover her whereabouts, he claimed.

Dodge described Remus as a man who liked to think he was the greatest operator in the liquor business and would go any lengths to gain revenge upon those who helped tear down that illusion.

As a matter of fact, he ranked far inferior to many others in the business, the former Government operative said.

"He thought I had influence with high officials and could secure immunity for him. When his pleas fell on deaf ears he became incensed, and the next thing I knew I was named in his divorce cross bill. Remus urged his wife to become familiar with me in the hope it would help him. We were never more than acquaintances."

At one time there was an attempt to settle the divorce case, Dodge asserted, and Remus was angered because his wife would not agree to a division that would have given Remus practically all of the property. Dodge said the scope of Remus's operations was much exaggerated and estimated his wealth at less than $1,000,000 instead of the reputed $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

GUIDING THE YOUNG IN UPWARD PATHS

A moving picture sample of the activities of little children learning by the laboratory method "try it and see" is being featured in London in an unusual campaign. Maltling House school, originally started by faculty members of Cambridge university for their own offspring as a place where young children could "learn how to learn," has proved so successful that the directors wish to expand it into a new type of educational research. To show parents who are interested in experimental schools what can be done to retain the emotional and intellectual drive of the "ask question age," movies of a specimen week at Maltling house have been put on view for a private showing. The directors, who include such men as Sir Ernest Rutherford, former winner of the Nobel prize for physics, and J. B. S. Haldane, essayist and biologist, recently attracted wide attention toward the school by advertising in leading scientific journals for a scientist "of the first order" to investigate and conduct the introduction of young children to science and scientific method.

YOUR NEXT CAR AUBURN POWERED BY LYCOMING Beats 45 Fastest Trains

45 Trains

40,000 Miles
65,678 Min.

3 Auburn Stock Cars

42,000 Miles
40,435 Min.

2000 Miles Farther in 25,243 Less Minutes

THE public thinks of such trains as the "Century" and the "Chief" as being fast. They are.

But it requires over 65,600 minutes for 45 of the world's fastest trains, going in all directions from Chicago, to run 40,000 miles. And these trains get MANY fresh engines, at regular intervals, in order to make this remarkable speed.

Contrast this phenomenal performance of three Auburn fully equipped STOCK cars that ran 42,000 miles in less than 40,435 minutes (exact duplicates in every way of the Auburn cars every Auburn dealer has).

Here is an amazing record of performance, endurance and value never before approached, let alone equalled.

No change of engines for these three stock cars. No favoritism, but the hardest kind of driving, continuously, under American Automobile Association official supervision, on the Atlantic City Speedway.

To even RUN 42,000 continuous miles, at much less speed, would be a tremendous tribute to ANY automobile's efficiency and stamina. That is farther mileage and infinitely harder punishment than any three average private owners impose on their cars in a whole year's service.

But no other car has ever survived an official test of this magnitude and distance. Three Auburn cars DID it, at speeds that overwhelmingly break all records.

Not only that, but we KNOW that Auburn cars can go much farther at even FASTER speed.

The purpose of this test was not speed, altho that is sensational and establishes Auburn supreme in this respect.

The real purpose was to prove in the acid test of this proving grounds that Auburn cars ARE better designed, better built, more efficient, and more durable.

In these highly competitive days of extravagant claims, the public is entitled to the unvarnished truth about the relative value of motor cars.

It is what a car DOES and not what its builders SAY that determines VALUE.

Drive an Auburn Straight Eight and if it does not sell itself you will not be asked to buy.

Do Spirits Return?—Fraudulent Mediums and Spiritism Exposed.

FRYE AND COMPANY

Birds snared in mid-air over the heads of the audience, fishes caught in the same way, the spirit slates, the disappearing ring, the wonder screen, the vanishing doves, the mysterious sunshade, cooking by radio, a lunch prepared from thin air, the great Chinese Torture Cabinet mystery, and many other illusions, varied with vocal and instrumental music, go to make the entertainment of Frye and Company one of the most attractive on the present Interstate Series.

DO SPIRITS RETURN?
Can Mortals Communicate With the Spirit World?

These are questions which have puzzled the world since civilization began. Frye and Company will produce many of the illusions and tricks used by fakers and alleged mediums in their so-called seances for the purpose of deceiving and extracting money from the credulous. Many of the artifices used to produce the fake spirit manifestations and the tricks used by fortune-tellers and similar frauds are demonstrated and exposed in a most instructive and entertaining manner.

$75,000 a Session May Be Saved By Legislation, Ackerman Says.

Co-operation of state departments with experts conducting the survey of government functions for the committee on economy and government is assured, Speaker O. C. Gray said here Wednesday in a meeting of the committee.

The experts for Griffin, Hagen and associates, limited, of Chicago, who are conducting the survey, will be given full authority to go into various departments by resolution of the legislative committee.

Work will start in the Legislature itself, according to Joseph N. Ackerman, Cleveland, who said approximately $75,000 a session can be saved by elimination of 50 Senate employees and 25 House employees.—Columbus Citizen.

"Receiving Room"

An elderly colored man hesitatingly opened the door at police headquarters the other day and walking into the building barely far enough to allow the door to close, addressed a bystander with, "Could you tell me, sir, where I could find the receiving room?"

"The receiving room?" asked the bystander with a puzzled look. "You have goods to deliver?"

"No sir, Have no goods. I want the receiving room—the room where they bring 'em after they're caught."

"Oh, I see. The turnkey's office. Right upstairs."—Indianapolis News.

Sound Advice
Some young fellows think that it is "smart," "clever," and a sign of bravery to drive near the edge of a precipice; to spend what cash they have freely; and to be a good fellow and take the risk some one else urges upon them. This is the sign of inexperience and lack of real business knowledge and experience. Play safe. Keep clean. Be strong. Be true, and you will never regret it.—Exchange.

Bottle Drifts From

New York to Azores

Red Bank, N. J.—On June 26, 1923, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Parker Humphreys of New York city and Fair Haven, N. J., were cruising on Long Island sound in their yacht Fenella.

Mrs. Humphreys wrote a note, inclosed it in a corked bottle and threw it overboard. The bottle was picked up July 15 of this year in the Azores, according to a letter just received by Mrs. Humphreys.

To arrive at this destination the bottle must have gone around Montauk point, striking the Arctic southerly current, following it down to some point south of Cape Hatteras, where it probably was caught in the gulf stream.
